

General Terms and Conditions

Conditions of participation

The organiser states that each participant is fully responsible for herself/himself and her/his actions inside and outside the event. This is especially true for physical exercises which are carried out individually, with partners or in a group. The signee agrees that she/he is in a sufficiently healthy and physically resilient state in order to participate in the event. The course instructor has to be informed about existing injuries before the course starts to make sure special needs can be taken into account. During class, each participant executes the positions/flows as described by the instructor, without overstepping his/her limits. If needed, variations of different positions are shown for various levels. Each participant is responsible for damage caused by herself/himself and exempts the organiser of liability claims.

Registration, registration confirmation, validity

Registration for all our courses/seminars/workshops has to be done through our website. With a completed registration form, you confirm that you agree to our General Terms and Conditions. Course fees and payments vary according to the Workshop module. The registration is binding after receiving the confirmation mail; for more information see section "Withdrawal, cancellation".

Postponement, event cancellation, disclaimer barefootyoga.me reserves the right to cancel, postpone or relocate an announced or current seminar schedule for organisational or commercial reasons. In case of a change/shift you will be informed immediately and payments will be reimbursed, if you do not agree with the alternate date. Private purchased bus, train or airplane tickets for arrival and departure can not be refunded in such a case.

Withdrawal, cancellation

Class / Course / Workshop:

Cancellation two weeks prior to the workshop is possible. In this case barefootyoga.me will reimburse the full course fee. In case of cancellation less than two weeks up to three days prior to the workshop 50% of the course fee will be refunded. If you cancel within three days before the course/workshop starts or terminate it, the entire fee is due or you provide a substitute participant.

Retreat:

After receiving the confirmation mail, 15% of the total costs have to be paid in case of cancellation. If you cancel between two months and two weeks before the retreat starts 25% of the total amount has to be paid. If you cancel within two weeks before the retreat starts 50% of the entire fee is due or you provide a substitute participant. If you terminate while the retreat is running the is it the organizers right to keep the whole amount of your retreat costs.

Newsletter

By signing the General terms and conditions the signee agrees to be included in our mailing list. Our aim is to send out a maximum of 6 newsletters per year in order to stay in contact with our clients. We respect if you do not want to receive our newsletter. Just write us a short Email with the subject „Newsletter – unsubscribe“ and we unsubscribe you from our mailing list. All data will be kept strictly confidential and will not be disclosed to third parties.

Photography & video.

By signing the General terms and conditions the signee agrees that all rights of use, unrestricted as to content, time and place, to any photo and video material, which is being documented during a barefootyoga.me event, are transferred exclusively from the participant to the author (and its right - successor). The transfer of usage rights applies to all currently known types of use and includes reproduction, distribution, digitisation, presentation, broadcasting, public access and public communication through image/sound/data carriers. Photographs and videos may be used in all appropriate media (e.g. online use of any kind, any print use, interactive and multimedia use, etc.) and may be stored in databases, including those which are available online. Photographs and videos may be edited or altered while respecting the privacy of the models (e.g. montage, combination with images, text, graphics, alienation using photographic techniques, colouring).

Disclaimer of liability

All information provided on the website (www.barefootyoga.me) is checked carefully. Still, there's no guarantee that the data is up to date and/or complete at all times. This applies especially to links to other websites. Information can be added, changed or deleted without prior notice.
